

AIM FOR THE STARS

Welcome to the University of Nebraska at Omaha's Aim for the Stars Summer Camp. We are anticipating a fun and successful week with you and your child. Our talented staff has created an exciting and memorable summer camp packed with loads of discovery and exploration! The University has opened its doors to allow your child to have hands-on experience with science and math through a variety of concepts, mediums and activities. We are glad you've chosen to join us!

Aim for the Stars Science and Math Camp maintains a firm belief that all staff and campers will show respect for each other and the college environment. With this in mind, all campers are expected to show respect for their peers, instructors and environment. In return for this respect, they will receive an excellent camping experience and have fun.

We hope that you will discuss with your child the importance of good manners and respect for others. In the event that blatant disrespect, unkindness or vandalism is observed by an instructor or member of the staff, your child may be reminded of our statement of respect and asked to abide by it. If further disruptions occur, parents/guardians will be called immediately and notified. Hopefully, no student will be asked not to return. However, should the occurrence be repetitive and disrespectful, you may be told to pick up your child and leave for the day or possibly for the remainder of the week with no refund of camp payment.

We thank you for discussing these guidelines with your child so that there will be no such occurrences. All comments of feedback regarding your child's camp experience would be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Connie O'Brien
Camp Director/Aim for the Stars
