Blackboard Course Management
Thursday, January 7 | 1-3 pm | Kayser Hall 543
Improving Basic Course Management is an entry level workshop designed to facilitate discussion and exploration of the ways various tools within Blackboard can be used to aid in course automation and improved course management. The workshop is hands-on and participants are invited to work in API's Blackboard training environment or within their own courses.

Introduction to Blackboard Managed Hosting
Wednesday, March 9 | 1-3 pm | Kayser Hall 543
UNO's Blackboard will be moving to a Managed Hosting environment for the Summer 2016 sessions. During this interactive session, we will explore what faculty will need to do to prepare for the transition and examine the differences between the current system and the new environment. No previous experience with Blackboard is necessary.

Blackboard End of the Semester Course Management Tips
Wednesday, May 4 | 12 (noon) - 1 pm | Kayser Hall 538
The end of the semester is a busy time for faculty members. Blackboard has several built-in tools that can help streamline several of the tasks faculty often need to do to make a smooth transition from one semester to the next. In this interactive session we'll go over the steps to download your Grade Center and student Assignment submissions, copy your course content to the next semester, and run the Date Management tool to easily adjust the date/time restriction information on all of the items within your course. Basic knowledge of Blackboard is recommended.
