

Native American Studies and the UNO College of Arts and Sciences

Present the

Native American Studies Alumni Centennial Lecture

‘The Future of Self-Determined
Native Nations: A Practitioner’s Perspective’

by

Maunka Morgan

Monday, November 2

7:00 p.m.

Bootstrapper Hall - UNO Alumni Center

Maunka Morgan is a member of the Winnebago Tribe of Nebraska. He works for the Ho-Chunk, Inc. wholly owned subsidiary, HCI Distribution Tobacco and serves as their Senior Sales Manager. His focus has been building and growing a nation-to-nation economic business model that serves and empowers the short and long-term interests of Native Nations everywhere.

Reception at 6:00 p.m.

For more information contact Beth Ritter, 402.554.3376 or britter@mail.unomaha.edu.

Public Welcome