

social entrepreneurs
urban thinkers
agents of change

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN URBAN STUDIES

Who are we?

Our graduates are social entrepreneurs, urban thinkers and agents of change. The Master of Science in Urban Studies (MSUS) is the degree for individuals desiring to make a difference in urban areas.

The Urban Studies Program at the University of Nebraska at Omaha (UNO) is a professional degree that trains leaders to critically analyze urban problems and to engage residents in the creation of innovative solutions to conditions in the human community, built environment and natural systems.

Innovative and flourishing since the 1970's, the Urban Studies Program at UNO boasts reputation and prestige. Join the movement. Apply today!

Ready to take the plunge?

Applications for the Master of Science in Urban Studies are now being accepted.

The general prerequisite for admission to the program is a four-year bachelors' degree with a minimum grade point average of 3.0 in the junior and senior years.

Application Deadline: July 1, 2016

402.554.2625 | spa.unomaha.edu | facebook.com/unospa

Contact Us

Dr. Meagan Van Gelder, Academic Program Coordinator
mvangelder@unomaha.edu | 402.554.3480

Dr. Robert Blair, MSUS Program Chair
rblair@unomaha.edu | 402.554.3865