Nebraska Legacy Scholarship

The Nebraska Legacy Scholarship program is for undergraduate children of University of Nebraska alumni who are nonresidents of Nebraska. Students who qualify for this scholarship will be eligible to receive the instate tuition rate for up to eight semesters.

Program Definitions:

For the purposes of this scholarship program, the following definitions apply: “Alumnus of the University” shall mean any person who has been awarded a baccalaureate degree, graduate degree, or professional degree from a university in the University of Nebraska system. This includes a degree from the University of Nebraska at Omaha (formerly Omaha University), University of Nebraska-Lincoln, the University of Nebraska at Kearney (formerly Kearney State College), and the University of Nebraska Medical Center.

A “child of alumnus” shall mean any person who is natural born child or legally adopted child of an alumnus of the University.

Student Eligibility Requirements:

To qualify for the scholarship for the first four semesters of attendance, a student must be the undergraduate child of an alumnus and meet the following guidelines:

High school graduates: (1) rank in the upper one-third of your graduating high school class; OR (2) have an ACT composite score of 24 or above; OR (3) have an SAT score of 1100 or above.

Transfer students enrolled in college for less than two years: (1) rank in the upper one-third of your graduating high school class; OR (2) have an ACT composite score of 24 or above; OR (3) have an SAT score of 1100 or above. In addition to one of the three criteria listed above, the student must also have earned a cumulative grade point average for all college work attempted of a 3.0 or higher on a 4.0 scale.

Transfer students enrolled in college for two years or more: (1) student must have earned a cumulative grade point average for all college work attempted of a 3.0 or higher on a 4.0 scale.

Scholarship renewal: to renew the scholarship after the initial four semesters, the student must maintain at least a cumulative 3.0 UNO grade point average.
