My Career...Your Options: from analytical bench chemist to corporate sustainability director, or Lessons in Life and Leadership: from the bench to the board room

Time flies when you are having fun. We’ll, recap my nearly 30 years in industry as a foil for what’s in store for you in the years ahead. We’ll talk about lessons learned along the way and how you can get off to a running start. More specifically, your keys to success will include: building a solid network, setting smart goals, and framing your “ASK”.

You can have it “ALL”; it just depends...on how you define “ALL”.
