Panel 1: Writing Corrections
10:00-10:50 am
Nicholas Bell and Tyrone Harper III of Writer’s Block, Carmala Aderman of Hero’s Journey, and Steve Langan and Alana Alexander of Programming Life 101 will discuss the creative writing that occurs within and beyond spaces of confinement.

Panel 2: Education and Re-Entry
11:00-11:50 am
Diane Good-Collins, Peter Suffredini, Glenn Flenorl and a special guest will discuss educational and re-entry opportunities offered by Metropolitan Community College’s 180 Re-entry Assistance Program (180 RAP).

Keynote Speaker: Dominique Morgan
12:00-12:45 pm
Dominique Morgan is the national director of Black and Pink, the largest prison abolitionist organization in the United States. Partnering his lived experience of incarceration as a youth (which included 18 months in solitary confinement), and a decade of change making advocacy and background in public health, Dominique continues to work in spaces of sex education, radical self-care, and youth development with intentions of dismantling the prison industrial complex and the impact it has on our community.

Sponsored by The College of Arts and Sciences; The College of Communication, Fine Arts, and Media; The Department of English; The School of Criminology and Criminal Justice; and The Department of Sociology and Anthropology
