In collaboration with the UNO Art Gallery, the Fried Academy, and the exhibition Nobody's Listening, Secunda's lecture will describe how his abstract painting practice changed direction 20-years ago and became an examination of the destruction of culture. His work has been exhibited internationally since the mid-90s, and was used as a tool of diplomacy between warring factions in Iraq in 2018. His work is in the collections of the Victoria and Albert Museum, London; The Iraq National Museum, Baghdad, and on permanent display at the Ashmolean Museum at Oxford University - the oldest Museum in the world.
