The UNO Goldstein Center for Human Rights, Goldstein Family Community Chair in Human Rights, The Office for Latino/Latin American Studies (OLLAS), and KANEKO invite you to a reception celebrating the end of the Carne y Arena exhibition in Omaha. The reception will feature guest speaker Angelina Snodgrass Godoy. Food and drinks provided.

Angelina Snodgrass Godoy is Professor of Law, Societies, and Justice, and of Global Studies, at the University of Washington in Seattle. She is a sociologist by training (MA and PhD, UC Berkeley; BA Harvard) whose research focuses on human rights in Latin America. Prior to pursuing her doctorate, she worked at Amnesty International, and she credits her experiences among human rights activists--at Amnesty as well as many other organizations--as the principal inspiration behind her work. At UW, Prof. Godoy serves as Helen H. Jackson Endowed Chair in Human Rights and founding Director of the Center for Human Rights. The UWCHR is an interdisciplinary center that promotes teaching, research, and engagement across the curriculum in all three UW campuses, and in partnership with local, national, and international organizations actively working for human rights. Godoy is the author of two books about human rights in Central America published by Stanford University Press, and numerous articles for both scholarly and general audiences.
