

OLLAS CHARLA
SERIES

TUESDAY

12:00 Noon, Sept. 20, 2011
Milo Bail Student Center
Nebraska Room

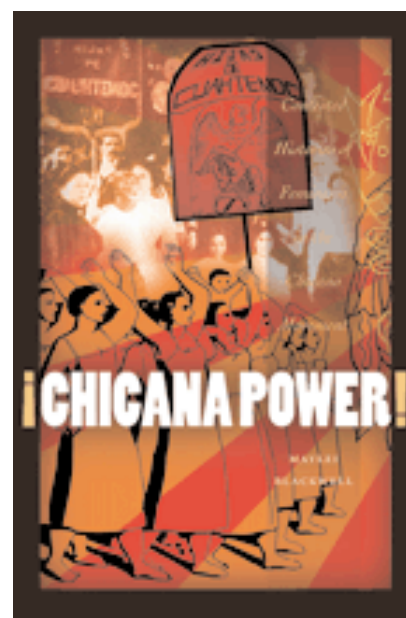

¡CHICANA POWER!

Contested Histories of Feminism in the Chicano Movement

Presentation by

Dr. Maylei Blackwell

Assistant Professor of Chicana/o Studies and Women's Studies, UCLA

Dr. Maylei Blackwell is an interdisciplinary scholar activist, oral historian, and author of "Chicana Power! Contested Histories of Feminism in the Chicano Movement." Her research has two distinct, but interrelated trajectories that broadly analyze how women's social movements in the U.S. and Mexico are shaped by questions of difference such as race, indigeneity, class, sexuality or citizenship and how these differences impact the possibilities and challenges of transnational organizing. Her most recent research with farm worker women and indigenous migrants seeks to better understand these new forms of grassroots transnationalism.

Financial support for this presentation provided by

Student Organizations and Leadership Programs (SOLP)
at the University of Nebraska-Omaha. Co-sponsored by
Office of Latino/Latin
American Studies (OLLAS),
Student Cultural Programming Committee, Women's and Gender Studies and the UNO
History Department.

AA/EEO Institution. For more information or special needs assistance, contact Yuriko Doku at (402) 554-3835 (TTY 554-3799) or visit the OLLAS website: unoma-ha.edu/ollas

LIGHT REFRESHMENTS WILL BE SERVED