Immigrant communities, particularly those with DACA, TPS and other forms of temporary protection, have borne the brunt of the current administration's aggressive attempts to limit immigration and demonize immigrants. These communities have had their immigration status revoked, postponed, and reinstated by the courts. Their status remains in limbo. This presentation will update the public on the state of affairs around TPS recipients, and will explore possible short to medium term scenarios for this population, and the relationship of this particular issue to larger immigrant and immigration policy questions today.

Alianza Americas formerly known as National Alliance of Latin American & Caribbean Communities (NALACC), is an umbrella of immigrant led and immigrant serving organizations based in the United States of America, dedicated to improving the quality of life of Latino immigrant communities in the US, as well as of peoples throughout the Americas.*
