

Faculty Application

To apply, please complete this cover sheet and any other materials requested via e-mail submission as Word documents. Completed applications will be distributed via e-mail to the Women's & Gender Studies Committee for consideration.

APPLICANT INFORMATION

Name _____ Department _____
Office location _____ Position/title _____
Phone number _____ Email _____@unomaha.edu
Personal website or linked in address _____

ATTACHMENTS - Please attach the following documents to this cover sheet.

Statement of Interest

Please provide a statement of interest and experience in the field of Women's & Gender Studies. Statement should include discussion of teaching, research, and creative activity, pedagogical approach, creative endeavors engaging with the community, activism and/or public service, and committee or other administrative work illustrates a Women's & Gender Studies related contribution to your field. It should also address how you plan to participate in and/or contribute to the UNO Women's & Gender Studies Program including but not limited to: teaching affiliated classes within your department, teaching general women's studies classes, engaging in research and creative activity that prioritizes issues related to Women's & Gender Studies, and engaging in related collaborative research and creative activity with other affiliated faculty.

Feminist Perspective

Please address these criteria with reference to your teaching and/or research and/or service philosophy or approach. You may include this in your letter.

A feminist perspective usually meets the following criteria:

- It questions biological determinism (meaning that it questions biological assumptions used to impose limitations on human beings).
- It questions the social construction of knowledge as cisgender and heteronormative, white and male.
- It questions taken-for-granted assumptions about sex/gender and masculine/feminine (e.g., that masculine is more valuable than feminine and should be dominant).
- It examines outcomes that reflect any kind of oppression.

Curriculum Vitae

Enclose a copy of your current CV with especially relevant items marked or highlighted.

Representative Work

If you have a copy of a book chapter, publication, manuscript, conference paper, creative work, or syllabus that reflects your approach please include it in your application.

Safe Space Policy

Once admitted, all WGS teaching faculty are required to be current (minimally renewed every three years) in LGBTQ1A2S+ Safe Space Ally Program offered by Student Leadership Involvement, and Inclusion.

Submission

If you have any questions, contact Dr. Kay Siebler. Forward all application materials via email to Dr. Kay Siebler, WGS Director at ksiebler@unomaha.edu (Updated 8/2026)

*Facilitating communications w/community organizations