ATTACHMENTS - Please attach the following documents to this cover sheet.

Statement of Interest

Please provide a statement of interest and experience in the field of Women's & Gender Studies (this may take the form of a letter). Statement should include discussion of relevant courses taken and taught (undergraduate and/or graduate), research, activism and/or public service, and committee or other administrative work. It should also address how you plan to participate in and/or contribute to the UNO Women's & Gender Studies Program.

Feminist Perspective

Please address these criteria with reference to your teaching and/or research and/or service philosophy or approach. You may include this in your letter.

A feminist perspective usually meets the following criteria:

- It questions biological determinism (meaning that it questions biological assumptions used to impose limitations on human beings).
- It questions the social construction of knowledge as cisgender and heteronormative, white and male.
- It questions taken-for-granted assumptions about sex/gender and masculine/feminine (e.g., that masculine is more valuable than feminine and should be dominant).
- It examines outcomes that reflect any kind of oppression.

Curriculum Vitae

Enclose a copy of your current CV with especially relevant items marked or highlighted.

Representative Work

Enclose a copy of a book chapter, publication, manuscript, conference paper, syllabus or other work that illustrates a Women's & Gender Studies-related contribution to your field.

Safe Space Policy

Once admitted, all WGS teaching faculty are to be current (minimally renewed every three years) in LGBTQ Ally & Safe Space Training offered by the Gender & Sexuality Resource Center.
