*Undergraduate deficiencies must be addressed as part of your plan of study. Please note: Although it is possible to finish this program in 5 semesters, students coming from an undergraduate degree at another university may have some undergraduate deficiencies to complete (e.g., if Neurophysiology and/or Research Methods were not taught as undergraduate courses at your university). Therefore, officially, we list our program as a 6-semester program in order to account for any deficiencies a student may be required to take.
