

ANNOUNCING TWO NEW EDUCATION CONCENTRATIONS

Students in the Teacher Education Department now have the flexibility to earn an education degree without pursuing teacher certification.

Beginning Fall 2018, the Teacher Education Department will add two new concentrations to its comprehensive list of undergraduate education offerings:

- » BS in Elementary Education, Family and Community concentration
- » BS in Secondary Education, Youth and Training concentration

These innovative concentrations will provide students with hands-on leadership and learning opportunities, and will prepare graduates to work in educational settings outside of classrooms and schools. Employment possibilities include careers with non-profit organizations, youth and child development, outreach programs, and in the corporate sector.

Students pursuing the Family and Community or Youth and Training Concentration will complete 120 credit hours of coursework including a capstone course with internship. Flexibility exists for minor programs and elective credits.

Professional core coursework includes:

- TED 2100 | Foundations of Education
- TED 2200 | Human Relations
- TED 2300 | Human Growth & Learning
- TED 2500 | Digital Citizenship
- TED 2060 | Equity, Language & Cultural Literacy
- SPED 1500 | Intro to Special Education
- SPED 4010 | Mental Health in the Schools
- SPED 4800 | Social & Emotional Development
