

AVIATION INSTITUTE INTERNSHIP

JETLINX AVIATION

Jet Linx Aviation, in collaboration with the Aviation Institute at the University of Nebraska at Omaha, is excited to offer an internship opportunity for students pursuing an aviation major or minor. This internship, based in the Jet Linx Flight Operations Center, provides valuable hands-on experience in fractional ownership, charter operations, and aircraft management.

Interns are expected to commit a minimum of eight hours per week throughout the semester. Upon successful completion, participants will earn 3 credit hours applicable toward AVN 4200 or AVN 8030.

Please note that this is an unpaid internship lasting one academic semester.

To apply, students should submit a resume and cover letter and complete the application form available on the Aviation Institute's internship website
