The College of Public Affairs and Community Service (CPACS) was created in 1973 to ensure the university was responsive to the critical social needs of our community and state. The College was given the mission not only to provide educational programs of the highest caliber to prepare students for leadership in the public service, but also to reach out to the community to help solve public problems.

The College has become a national leader among similar colleges, with eight programs ranked in the top 25 in the nation. Our faculty ranks among the finest in their disciplines. And faculty, staff, and students are integral to the community and the state because of our applied research, service learning and community partnerships. We take seriously our duty to address social needs and craft solutions to local, state and national problems.

The School of Criminology and Criminal Justice (CCJ) has undergone a tremendous amount of change, but the prevailing sentiment continues to be one of optimism; our program has a very bright future ahead of it. Several CCJ faculty are nationally and internationally recognized experts in their areas of study. The doctoral program is also internationally recognized and continues to be highly ranked by U.S. News and World Report.

CCJ is a large, dynamic program with 18 tenure-track/tenured faculty, two emeritus faculty, two research faculty, eight full-time and four part-time professional and support staff members as well as 25 part-time faculty. The School offers educational programming on both the UNO and UNL campuses and houses two research units: the Juvenile Justice Institute (JJI) and the Nebraska Center for Justice Research (NCJR). CCJ is pleased to report an upward trend in majors, degrees awarded, and student credit hour production.

In addition to these general trends, many of our undergraduate students (49 Omaha, 107 Lincoln) also participated in internships with local, state, and federal government agencies, enhancing their educational experiences.

- Trisha Rhodes, Assistant Professor at Virginia Commonwealth University, PhD exp. August 2015

Research

Over the last year, CCJ faculty have been actively engaged in traditional scholarly research as well as more applied, collaborative research efforts with local and federal agencies. Our faculty have authored or co-authored 4 scholarly books, 57 peer-reviewed journal articles, 34 book chapters and encyclopedia entries, and 11 technical reports. They also currently have an additional 35 papers under review at scholarly journals and 54 other projects in progress. Importantly, approximately one-third of these papers and projects have graduate and undergraduate student coauthors. Faculty delivered 65 presentations at professional conferences and in the last year, many of them invited presentations.
Honors and Awards

- UNO Award for Distinguished Research and Creative Activity: John Crank
- CCJ Staff Excellence Award: Barbara Homer
- UNL Parents’ Association Recognition: Karen Fulton and Diane Dannelly
- CCJ Outstanding Undergraduate Student Award: Jesse Sladky (Lincoln) and Grant Purcell (Omaha)
- CCJ Outstanding Graduate Student Award: Trisha Rhodes
- CCJ Graduate Student Organization Faculty Mentor Award: Pete Simi
- CPACS Outstanding Alumni Award: Dave Goering (Lincoln graduate)
- CPACS Outstanding Alumni Award: Roxann Ryan (PhD graduate)
- UNO College of Education Graduate Student Award for Excellence: Ashley Cunningham
- Twenty-seven undergraduates were inducted into Alpha Phi Sigma, the national CJ honor society
- Approximately $18,000 awarded in scholarships to CCJ undergraduate and graduate students supporting academics, study abroad, and research opportunities.

Community Partnerships

SCCJ is proud of its record of community partnerships and externally-funded projects. The School houses two research bodies: the Juvenile Justice Institute (JJI), directed by Dr. Anne Hobbs, and the Nebraska Center for Justice Research (NCJR), directed by Dr. Ryan Spohn. JJI and NCJR facilitate collaborative research efforts and community partnerships as well as provide assistance with securing external funding for research. The following funded projects are under way in the School:

- Transformation Project (Spohn)
- Project Safe Neighborhoods (Spohn)
- Completely Kids Evaluation (Spohn)
- Minority Health Initiative Evaluation (Spohn)
- Violence Against Women Act Strategic Planning for Nebraska Crime Commission (Spohn)
- Douglas County Collective Impact Initiative (Spohn)
- Douglas County Juvenile Assessment Center (Spohn)
- Nebraska Legislature – Medical marijuana enforcement impact, good-time law assessment (Spohn)
- Crossover Youth Practice Model (Spohn and Wright)
- U.S. Strategic Command/Department of Defense (Simi)
- Right-wing Extremist Terrorism Project for National START Consortium (Simi)
- Empirical Assessment of Domestic Disengagement and Deradicalization for National Institute of Justice (Simi)
- Research and Evaluation of Domestic Radicalization to Violent Extremism for National Institute of Justice (Simi)
- Parole Validation (Spohn, Steiner, Sample)
- Role of Childhood Cumulative Risk in Substance Misuse and Co-occurring Problems – National Institute for Drug Abuse with Boys Town (Savolainen)
- Lancaster County American Recovery and Reinvestment Act Project (Hobbs)
- Lancaster County Second Chance Act Juvenile Reentry Project (Hobbs)
- Assessment of Disproportionate Minority Contact in Nebraska (Hobbs)
- Lancaster County Early Assessment (Hobbs)
- Web-enabled Juvenile Diversion System for Nebraska (Hobbs)
- East Central – Maternal Health (Clinkinbeard)
- Goodwill Industries (Sample)
- Polyvictimization among Adult Women funded by WCA (Radatz, Wright)
- Graduate Assistantship - Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services (Simi)
- Graduate Assistantship - Nebraska Department of Correctional Services (Batton)

Internally Funded Research

- Morality and Crime in Bangladesh (Brauer)
- Prison Misconduct (Brennan)
- Effects of Polyvictimization (Wright)
- Sex Offender Recidivism (Sample)
- Prison Environments and Recidivism (Steiner)
- Right-wing Extremism (Simi)
- Genes, Mind, Behavior (Savolainen, Brauer)
- Sexual Contact between Children and Older People (Savolainen)

Conference Sponsorship

The following conferences and activities were sponsored by CCJ in the last year:

- Jailhouse Scramble Golf Tournament, Tiberon Golf Course, Omaha.
- School of Criminology and Criminal Justice Awards Luncheon
- Restrictive Housing Summit
- Criminal Justice Student Association, Omaha and Lincoln campuses.
- Sponsor, Division of Corrections and Sentencing Social, American Society of Criminology.

Future Directions

- CCJ is working toward taking the BS fully online.
- CCJ is exploring the development of a Corrections Leadership Initiative that will focus on professional development opportunities in corrections, probation, and parole.
The School of Public Administration is a national leader in public service education, and the home of top-ten ranked academic programs with rigorous accreditation standards. We provide a range of academic degrees and professional certifications; we generate significant research that impacts government, industry and nonprofit organizations; and we engage students and faculty directly with relevant professional communities. The School is on the frontier of creating and transmitting knowledge. Our goal is to be the best in the nation at what we do.

Research

Faculty research productivity remains high. During 2014-15 faculty delivered 27 conference presentations, and since August 2014 published more than 20 journal articles and book chapters in numerous outlets including the following:

- Administration & Society
- Administrative Theory & Praxis
- American Review of Public Administration
- Community Development: Journal of the Community Development Society
- Environmental Values
- Food Studies: An Interdisciplinary Journal
- International Journal of Public Administration
- International Public Management Review
- International Review of Public Administration
- Journal of Contingencies and Crisis Management
- Journal of Health and Human Services Administration
- Municipal Finance Journal
- Public Administration Quarterly
- Public Administration Review
- Public Budgeting & Finance
- Public Organization Review
- Public Performance & Management Review
- Revista Organizacoes e Sociedade (organization and Society)

In addition, Dr. Christine Reed published Saving the Pryor Mountain Mustang: Fifty Years of Local-Federal Cooperation, University of Nevada Press, and Carl Ameringer received a book contract from Cambridge University Press for Healthcare Delivery in America.
Funded Research

Faculty have been awarded grants from:
- City of Omaha
- Fremont Area Community Foundation
- Omaha Community Foundation
- Omaha NAACP
- NASA
- National Science Foundation
- Nonprofit Association of the Midlands
- University of Nebraska Foundation
- US Centers for Disease Control

NASA NEBRASKA SPACE GRANT & EPSCoR

NASA Nebraska Space Grant Consortium

The National Space Grant College and Fellowship program enters its 25th year as a national network of more than 1000 colleges, universities, and other affiliates working to expand opportunities and interest in aeronautics and space projects by supporting science and engineering education, research, and public outreach. Space Grant funds fellowships for students pursuing careers in science, technology, and engineering fields, faculty and student research projects, and curriculum enhancement. The grant is administered in partnership with ten other higher education institutions across the state.

Highlights:

- NASA awarded the NASA Nebraska Space Grant $575,000 in FY2015 funding
- Awarded mini-grant and fellowship funding across Nebraska to support NASA-related initiatives
- Funded Nebraska student teams to participate in NASA projects and competitions, including:
  - NASA Robotic Mining Competition at Kennedy Space Center in Florida
  - RockSat-X Payload Development and Launch from Wallops Flight Facility in Maryland
  - AIAA Design, Build, Fly Competition in Tucson, AZ
  - Autonomous Vehicle Competition in Boulder, CO
  - RockOn! Payload Development and Launch from Wallops Flight Facility
  - RockSat-C Payload Development and Launch from Wallops Flight Facility
  - New UNO Robotics Team
- Supported ten UNO students to attend the University Aviation Association Policy Seminar in Washington, D.C.
- Added two new higher education courses in Nebraska and revised 14 courses
- Ran the Aeronautics and Space Sciences sections at the 135th Nebraska Academy of Sciences with 34 presentations and 11 posters
- Sponsored numerous High Altitude Balloon launches across Nebraska for middle school and high schools students and teachers, as well as higher education students and faculty
- Exploring Unmanned Aerial Systems development, research, application, and policy
- We are eager to join other states in using the CubeSat platform as an enabler for space-centered technology demonstrations and scientific experiments. A team of researchers and educators are working to establish the Space Technology and Exploration Lab (STELa), which represents an ambitious effort of the NASA Nebraska Space Grant and EPSCoR programs. This work builds on Project HALON (High Altitude Learning Over Nebraska), which was funded by a mini-grant from the NASA Nebraska Space Grant. STELa will serve as the home base for CubeSat development efforts and will support a progression of student-led research, design, fabrication, and testing experiences starting with high altitude ballooning and culminating with the design, development, testing, and launch of Nebraska’s first nanosatellite.
- Provided astronomy training for 20 teachers at the Nebraska Star Party in Valentine, NE
- Undergraduate students at College of St. Mary conducted science experiments in the classroom for over 850 elementary students and teachers through the Science Education Outreach project
Funded the Wacky Wednesday Afterschool Robotics Challenge at the Edgerton Explorit Center in Aurora, Nebraska for 220 students.

Participated in science outreach at Nebraska’s Science Festival

Diversity Initiatives:

To date in FY 2014, 46% of fellowships were awarded to females and 30% to underrepresented students.

The Nebraska Indian Community College (NICC) Weather Stations and Climate Change Research Project has increased the research capabilities for NICC. Weather stations were set up at each NICC campus where the students and their faculty mentor have been collecting data.

Michaela Lucas is the faculty advisor for UNO’s Women in STEM (WiSTEM) and UNO’s Women in Aviation Maverick chapters. These groups provide STEM education outreach to hundreds of students each year.

Supported five students to attend the Women in Aviation International Conference in Dallas, and nine students to attend the National Society of Women Engineers Conference in Los Angeles.

NASA Nebraska EPSCoR

The overarching goal of the NASA Nebraska Experimental Program to Stimulate Competitive Research (EPSCoR) program is to develop the state’s research infrastructure to facilitate and support long-term, self-sustaining, and nationally competitive research capabilities in aerospace and aerospace-related research. The program administers a mini-grant program that elevates the aerospace-related research being conducted in Nebraska to support future infrastructure building and workforce development opportunities. This mini-grant program prioritizes capacity-building research projects with strategic importance to NASA’s mission and to the state of Nebraska. We also help Nebraska researchers develop the capabilities to be successful in securing funding through competitive proposals to NASA and other federal, state, or private organizations.

Achievements:

- NASA awarded the NASA Nebraska EPSCoR $125,000 in FY 2015 funding for the Research Infrastructure Development program which seeds NASA-related research in Nebraska
- Awarded a nationally competitive $750,000 grant for the project, “Highly Permanent Biomimetic Micro/Nanostructured Surfaces by Femtosecond Laser Surface Processing for Thermal Management Systems”
- Awarded a nationally competitive $100,000 grant for a project that will fly on the International Space Station: “Investigation of Fatigue Due to Solar Neutron and Other Radiation Absorption in New Materials for Neutron Voltaic Devices”
- Submitted a proposal to the national competition for a project, “Large Volume Crystal Growth of Superoxide Dismutase Complexes in Microgravity for Neutron Diffraction Studies”
The Aviation Institute is a nationally recognized leader in developing tomorrow’s aviation professionals. Awarded the prestigious Loening Trophy in 2012, the Aviation Institute continues to lead collegiate aviation in ways that measurably enhances the lives of our students and others we serve through our instructional, research, and service programs. The Bachelor of Science in Aviation, Air Transport Administration concentration is accredited through the Aviation Accreditation Board International.

Student Achievements

- The UNO Flight Team, The Flying Mavs, participated in their sixth straight National Competition in Columbus, OH and place 15th in the nation.
- This year we sent 13 students to the University Aviation Association Seminar on Establishing Aviation Policy in Washington DC and six students attended the Women in Aviation International Convention in Dallas, TX.

Community Partnerships

- Alfonza Davis Middle School
- Omaha Burke High School
- Civil Air Patrol
- Mid-America Council, Nebraska Business Aviation Association
- The Institute completed its 18th year of hosting the Aviation Explorers Post. We taught a group of young men and women about careers in aviation which included tours of Jet Linx Aviation, Eppley Airfield, Duncan Aviation, the UNO Flight Simulation facility, and a Discovery Flight in collaboration with Advanced Air at the Council Bluffs Airport.

National Partnerships

- The Institute and Envoy Air have partnered to develop a career path from student to Regional Airline Pilot. This program gives the pilot a secured position at Envoy while building time towards the Airline Transport Pilot (ATP) minimum flight experience requirements. Not only does the program provide this streamlined career path, but pilots are guaranteed an interview with American Airlines once completing requirements at Envoy.
- The Institute joined ExpressJet’s Airline Pilot Pathway Program (AP3) which allows our students to begin a screening process early in their academic careers to set them on a clear track to becoming an airline pilot. Through highly structured and competitive requirements, the AP3 ensures that participating students achieve the highest levels of safety, proficiency and education that will prepare them for a position as a first officer at ExpressJet.
- In July of 2014 we received formal authorization from the Federal Aviation Administration to award the Restricted Airlines Transport Pilot Certificate at 1000 hours.
- Women in Aviation, International Chapter
- Airports Council International
- Alpha Eta Rho Professional Aviation Fraternity
- American Association of Airport Executives
- Aviation Accreditation Board International
Faculty

- Dr Rebecca Lutte conducted research on the impact of the ATP regulatory policy change on the U.S. pilot supply which included a nationwide survey of students in collegiate aviation programs. She also participated in the National Pilot Supply Summit at Ohio State University.
- In the Fall of 2016, Ms. Lisa D'Allura will officially join the faculty of the Institute as Special Faculty Development Instructor.

Fall of 2015 will mark the 25th Anniversary of the Aviation Institute.
The School houses the program, Support and Training for the Evaluation of Programs (STEPs) which has employed seven graduate student workers and worked with four CPACS faculty. Major research grants this year include:

- Awarded 3-year federal Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) grant of $1.3 million.
- Heartland Family Service (evaluator for U.S., Administration of Children, Youth and Families, Children’s Bureau)
- Nebraska Families Collaborative (evaluator for U.S., Administration of Children, Youth and Families, Children’s Bureau)

School faculty worked on several other grants with community organizations, including:

- Avenue Scholars Foundation
- Nebraska Court Appointed Special Advocates Association
- Nebraska Children’s Home Society
- Building Bright Futures
- Greater Omaha Attendance and Learning Services (GOALS) Center
- Phoenix Academy
- United Way of the Midlands / Financial Success Program
- Summer Works
- Children’s Scholarship Fund
- Region 6 Behavioral Health
- Omaha Community Foundation

Comings and Goings

Dr. Christiana Bratiotis resigned May 2015
Jacque Reiser retired May 2015
Dr. Karen Rolf faculty development leave 2015-2016
Liam Heerten-Rodriguez, special faculty development program starting August 2015
Valerie Lutz hired November 2014
Jeanette Beda took a PT position in WGST at UNO November 2014
Kaleigh Rogers, academic advisor hired November 2014
DEPARTMENT OF
GERONTOLOGY

Two major highlights for the Department include:
• The Department received a very generous gift from Dr. Betty Foster to establish the Dr. Chuck Powell Professorship.
• We established a new bachelor’s degree in Gerontology in October 2014 and have 38 majors as of May, 2015.

Research

Faculty authored eight journal articles and book chapters this year. Some titles include:
• “The aging personality and self: Diversity and health issues.”
• “Older adults’ training needs and preferences for everyday technologies.”
• “A cost-effective way to care for an aging population,”
• “Senior hunger in Nebraska.”
• “Preparing corrections staff for the future: Results of a two-day training about aging inmates.”

Conference papers included the following:
• “Alcohol consumption as a predictor of intra-individual variability and level of cognitive decline.”
• “Examination of age and gender differences in cognitive and emotional empathy in young, middle-aged and older adults.”
• “Connecting Generations: Evidence from Community Engaged Intergenerational Learning.”
• “Formal and informal caregivers of persons with Alzheimer’s disease: Exploring common areas of competencies.”
• “Begin with the End in Mind: A global model for facilitating necessary conversations.”

Students

Our programs have grown significantly. We have increased by 10.3 % the total number of students in our programs and 36 students are fully online, an increase of 100% from the previous year. In addition to the new bachelors program, our other programs are very healthy:
• We have 100 minors at UNO and UNL, 74 undergraduate and graduate certificate students and 16 students pursuing the PhD specialization in Gerontology.
• We have 50 students in the Masters in Social Gerontology, a 47% increase.
• We publicized our programs at the American Society on Aging Conference in Chicago, the Home Instead convention, and the Nebraska Health Care Association and Leading Age of Nebraska.
• We were part of a week-long program on career planning at Westside High School.

DIVISION OF CONTINUING STUDIES

UNO’s online Bachelor of General Studies (BGS) degree is nationally ranked by U.S. News & World Report’s 2015 Edition of Best Online Education Programs.

2014 –15 Academic year highlights

- The BGS degree is ranked #7 in the nation for military and veteran students by U. S. News & World Report (2015).
- During the 2014 calendar year, 310 students graduated with a BGS degree and 4296 academic advising appointments were held.
- As a result of DCS-sponsored courses (online, at Offutt AFB, and off-campus) offered to all UNO students during the 2014 calendar year, 19,136 student credit hours were produced.
- Total enrollment in DCS-sponsored online courses during 2014 reached 5181.
- Initiation for Alpha Sigma Lambda, the National Honor Society for Continuing Education and Lifelong Learning, was held on Friday, November 7, 2014. Twenty students were initiated into the UNO/DCS Eta Beta Chapter. Marti Rosen-Atherton, DCS Academic Advisor, and Dr. Owen Mordaunt, Professor of English, were inducted as Honorary Members. For the first time, the initiation was held in the fall during Nontraditional Student Week.
- Eleven BGS students were recognized at the 2015 UNO Honors Convocation and the DCS Outstanding Student Awards Luncheon.
- For Fall 2014, 207 BGS students were named to the Dean’s List and 37 students were named to the Chancellor’s List.
- The DCS Offutt Office administered 1,482 CLEP and DSST exams in 2014.
- The DCS Ambassadors student group was established and successfully completed its first year. The Ambassadors assisted with recruitment and outreach events; participated in community service events; assisted with DCS and UNO programs; participated in leadership development activities; developed a mentor program for new students; and provided feedback about the UNO and DCS experience. The DCS Ambassadors Graduation Banquet was held in April 2015 to recognize the students who were part of the inaugural year of this organization. Members and officers for the 2015-16 academic year have been identified and this new group of Ambassadors is off to a strong and solid start.
- During National Non-Traditional Students Week (November 3-7, 2014), the Division of Continuing Studies honored the hard work and accomplishments of adult students at UNO with academic support programs, daily refreshments, prizes, and student recognition. BGS student winners of a drawing had the opportunity to enjoy lunch with Chancellor Christensen and Senior Vice Chancellor BJ Reed.
- During the 2014-15 academic year, the Division of Continuing Studies participated in professional development opportunities (conferences, webinars, meetings, etc.) offered by the following organizations:
- Greater Omaha Chamber Young Professionals (YP) Summit
- Council of College and Military Educators (CCME)
- National Academic Advising Association (NACADA)
- University Professional and Continuing Education Association (UPCEA)
- American Council on Education (ACE)
- Pepperdine University Graduate School of Education and Psychology | Women’s Leadership Conference
- 2015 Adult Student Integrated Marketing Conference | STAMATS
- National Conference on Students in Transition

- New business and community partnerships were established with Methodist Health System, the Bellevue Chamber of Commerce, Cabela’s, Maximus, ConAgra, and Goodwill Industries.
- DCS led campus-wide efforts to organize and co-sponsor UNO’s first Etiquette Dinner presented by nationally known etiquette expert and modern manners authority, Diane Gottsman.
- The DCS Faculty Appreciation Dinner was held for DCS faculty, UNO department chairs, and UNO academic administrators. The purpose of the dinner was to thank DCS faculty and to provide an opportunity for networking and relationship building.
- Thanks to Dr. Jaci Lindburg, several “UNO Days” were held at Western Nebraska Community College (WNCC). This gave WNCC students an opportunity to learn about the BGS degree and other academic options available at UNO.

- The Division of Continuing Studies participated in numerous recruitment and outreach events to promote the BGS degree and the University of Nebraska at Omaha. A number of these events were co-sponsored by Online Worldwide and other UNO departments:
  - Aksarben Farmers Market
  - Offutt Airshow
  - Latino Center of the Midlands Event
  - Midtown Crossing, End of Summer Concert Series
  - Energy Expo
  - Bellevue Earth Day
  - El Grito Days in South Omaha
  - UNO Dual Enrollment Events
  - River City Rodeo
  - Metropolitan Community College (MCC) Week
  - Single Parent Conference at MCC
  - Society of Human Resource Management (SHRM) Conference
  - Omaha Young Professionals (YP) Summit
  - Local Hero’s Night Hockey Game
Staff Changes

- Molly Cowgill was hired as Manager of the DCS Offutt Office.
- Dr. Jaci Lindburg transitioned from Assistant Director of DCS for Academic Affairs to Academic Affairs Associate. Jaci and her family relocated to Colorado, from where she now telecommutes for DCS. Jaci continues to recruit for and promote the BGS degree and UNO in western Nebraska. She is also responsible for the creation and implementation of the new professional development and training program required of all DCS faculty.
- Andrew Faltin was hired as Assistant Director of DCS for Academic Affairs.
- Joey VanderHelm and Nellie Beyen were hired as full-time DCS Academic Advisors.
- Amy Johnson was promoted to Office Associate.
- Shauna Nilsen, BGS Student and DCS Ambassador, was hired as a DCS Student Employee.
- Tara Augustin was hired as a DCS Graduate Assistant.
- Taylor McCoy was hired as Staff Assistant and Test Administrator at the DCS Offutt Office.
- Marti Rosen-Atherton retired from UNO a second time in December 2014. Marti served as a part-time Academic Advisor in the Division of Continuing Studies for three years (2011-14) after retiring from her full-time position as Director of UNO’s Counseling Center.
- 2015 DCS Distinguished Alumni Award Recipients: Karen and Jim Ressegieu

The Center for Public Affairs Research (CPAR) celebrated the 25th anniversary of its designation as the lead agency of the Nebraska State Data Center by the Governor. In addition to its 25 years of service to the state of Nebraska and the Omaha area, the NSDC sponsored its 25th Annual Data Users Conference. We were nominated for national State Data Center of the year.

CPACS Diversity Initiative

CPAR was established in 1963 as the Center for Urban Studies. Its initial mission was to address urban problems and information needs. During the past year, CPAR began to reexamine its historical urban mission within the current operating environment. Issues of diversity and social problems are key components in this effort. Activities include:

- Strengthened relationships and developed collaborations with Black Studies and Office of Latino/Latin American Studies.
- Worked with CPACS, other UNO faculty and staff and community organizations that have similar interests in the issues of diversity and social problems. With funding provided by the CPACS Dean's Office, administered and helped select eight Urban Research grants for CPACS faculty and staff, many working with community partners.

CPAR Publication Archive

The CPAR publication archive is available at http://digitalcommons.unomaha.edu/cpar. All publications have either been uploaded or have been submitted for inclusion. We have a total of 513 documents currently available; receiving 8,612 downloads between April 2014 and April 2015.

Materials from Annual Data Users Conference for the past 6 years are available at http://digitalcommons.unomaha.edu/datausers. There are 55 documents included in this collection; receiving 499 downloads between April 2014 and April 2015.

State Data Center Program

• As the lead agency for the Nebraska State Data Center, CPAR continued to manage the program that also consists of a network of 23 state and local agencies.
• facebook.com/unocpar--We post most days and have 325 likes, but posts often reach several hundred additional people with our work and insight.
• Prepared special reports, data tables, and power point presentations using the 2010 Census, American Community Survey, intercensal estimates and other sources and placed them on CPAR’s website. (http://www.unomaha.edu/cpar/)
• CPAR’s redesigned website using the new CMS went live on July 28, 2014. Since then there have been 6,469 pageviews, averaging 1:35 minutes per session (July 28, 2014 – April 27, 2015). CPAR’s previous website had 1,878 pageviews, averaging 3:30 minutes per session (April 28, 2014 – July 27, 2015).
• Sponsored the 25th Annual Data Users Conference. For the fourth consecutive year we used Adobe Connect. We had 190 in-person and 30 web participants from throughout the U.S.
• Worked on numerous Census-related projects including:
  o Summarized Nebraska’s poverty data by a variety of geographic areas and demographic characteristics, including an analysis of the new Supplemental Poverty measure.
  o Compared birth rates by race/ethnicity over time.
• Worked with state media including, the Omaha World-Herald, Lincoln Journal-Star, Grand Island Independent, Norfolk Daily News among numerous other newspapers and with radio and TV stations (e.g. KFAB and KIOS) on demographic information from the census and other sources. Interviewed by Univision and Fox News Latino.
• Made over 20 data-related presentations throughout the state, with more than 750 contacts.
• Made numerous presentations to UNO classes on using Census and other data.
• Responded to approximately 400 information requests from throughout the state and nation, although mostly from the Omaha area. Many of these requests are from the offices of Nebraska state legislators.
CPACS Support

- Coordinated the Certificate in Fundraising Management program. Over 150 individuals have earned the Certificate in the 15 years of the program. In 2014-2015, there were 12 courses held, averaging 13.5 participants per class. There were 79 unique participants, most taking multiple courses. Six participants received the Certificate in Fall 2014 and seven participants are expected to receive the Certificate in Spring 2015.
- CPACS Websites Technical Support: Provide technical assistance to 4 non-CPAR website along with assisting several units with online form creation and management.
- CPACS Website Conversion Project: CPAR provided logistical support to all units during the website conversion. CPACS sites went live in July; and all sites completed conversion by end of December.
- Planning Committee for upcoming Aging with Passion & Purpose Conference.
- Moderate NASPAA listserve.

Survey Research:

CPAR staff provided technical assistance and advice on conducting surveys to CPACS and UNO faculty and students, nonprofit, and government agencies.

The first year in the Barbara Weitz Community Engagement Center was a great one for the Institute for Labor Studies. Being on campus has opened doors for building ties to the UNO community and increasing opportunities for the Institute to present material to people outside the labor movement.

Mike McDonnell joined the Institute as a labor educator in August. He hit the ground running and used his relationships with the Omaha labor movement to plan contract classes and increase attendance at our annual Promoting the General Welfare conference. Mike is also building ties between Boys Town and organized labor in the Omaha metro area. Terry Moore, President of the Omaha Federation of Labor (OFL) has asked Mike to chair a committee tasked with revising the OFL’s by-laws.

The April, 2015, “Promoting the General Welfare” conference was held for the second year in the CEC and was the best attended ever. Tefere Gebre, the Executive Vice President of the AFL-CIO was this year’s keynoter.

In addition to meeting the Institute’s statewide mission its educational offerings have been requested by unions from around the U.S. and Canada. This academic year the Institute presented or will present classes in British Columbia, Florida, Minnesota, Nevada, Ontario, and Washington State.
