The College of Public Affairs and Community Service (CPACS) proudly serves as home to nationally ranked programs and award-winning faculty recognized as experts in their fields. CPACS was created in 1973 to ensure the university was responsive to the critical social needs of our community and state.

Our mission includes offering the highest-caliber educational programs to prepare students for leadership in public service and helping the community solve important problems.

Approximately 3,000 students each year are enrolled in CPACS to pursue undergraduate, graduate, and doctoral studies in all of our academic and outreach programs. Our students learn the skills and develop the relationships necessary to address the social issues we face on a local and national level.

The School of Criminology and Criminal Justice is ranked as the No. 1 Best Online Programs by U.S. News & World Report, 2019.

UNO’s Goodrich Scholarship Program is awarded specifically to students looking to connect and contribute to the community within their career. This scholarship is usually awarded to first-generation college students.

For the second year in a row, UNO’s competitive student aviation team finished in the top ten at the 2019 National Intercollegiate Flying Association SAFECON competition.
