

Dr. Hayes is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Psychology at the Munroe-Meyer Institute (MMI) for Genetics and Rehabilitation. She earned her doctorate from The University of Southern Mississippi in School Psychology and completed her pre-doctoral internship and post-doctoral fellowship at MMI. Dr. Hayes currently conducts clinic at MMI and works with populations across the lifespan, specializing in assessment and behavioral therapy with individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities and their caregivers. In addition to her clinical work, Dr. Hayes also serves as an Assistant Director of Psychology Internship Training and has a passion for building the behavioral health workforce for underserved populations.