Individuals interested in conducting mental health treatment and/or identifying themselves as a social worker in Nebraska require license and certification by the state of Nebraska.

Do you have questions about how to become provisionally licensed as a mental health practitioner (LMHP and LIMHP) in Nebraska? Do you know the process for applying for a clinical social work (CSW) certification in Nebraska?

NEBRASKA SOCIAL WORK LICENSURE Q&A

Monday, December 16, 2019

Presented by: Susan Reay, LICSW, Chair of the Mental Health Practice Board in Nebraska and Nebraska Social Work Representative for the National Association of Social Work Boards

This seminar is specific to licensure in Nebraska only and will not cover the application process for chemical dependency licensure. The following topics will be covered:

- Review of the LMHP, LIMHP, and CSW application process
- Clarification of the various masters level mental health practitioner credentials in Nebraska
- Malpractice Insurance
- Resources for lifelong career development
- Review of the Association of Social Work Boards licensing exam

College of Public Affairs and Community Service | 402.554.6342 | unomaha.edu