"The dream for this building is for the community to become all it can be. It's for people to come together to work for the greater good of all of Omaha's citizens—not my little neighborhood, not your little neighborhood, but for the whole community."

– BARBARA WEITZ

UNO AND COMMUNITY BUILDING PARTNER ORGANIZATIONS

After completing a space application and going through the interview process, community and university organizations and initiatives selected are then placed in one of three partner spaces in the building, where they will be housed for up to three years. After two years residency, building partner organizations may re-apply through the application process to stay up to an additional 3 years, 6 years total. Each community and UNO partnership space has a mix of community and university users. Each area hosts a diverse group of organizations that can share interests and missions to develop mutually-beneficial partnerships with UNO and the community.

(Please see our Partners Handout for a list of the current building partners)

JESS'S RESOURCE CENTER

The Union Pacific Atrium is a special place to honor the legacy of Jessica Lutton Bedient, who was best known for her passion for helping others in her community and around the world. Jess joined the University of Nebraska Foundation in 2008, and in 2010, she lost her life in a car accident.

"Frankly, there is no better place nor time to create a consolidated community-university center than Omaha. There are many longstanding partnerships, burgeoning opportunities, and unmet needs waiting to be addressed, and many willing hands throughout our community and within the campus ready to work."
