The Service Learning Academy (SLA) invites educators and community partners to participate in a Service Learning Research & Resource Forum. This forum will highlight how to address poverty through service learning. The Service Learning Academy will lead a discussion on recent research focused on poverty trends and challenges. Participants will hear from partners and SLA will present on the intersection of service learning, poverty and education. Participants will help shape further strategies to implement service learning in high poverty areas in Omaha. P-12 UNO teachers and faculty are highly encouraged to attend. Lunch will be provided.
