

UNO'S CPACS OUTREACH

Statewide vision

We recently mentioned here that the University of Nebraska at Omaha does first-rate work through its College of Public Affairs and Community Service (CPACS), which came up during debate on a bill before the Legislature.

The various departments that make up CPACS recently released their annual report listing all of CPACS' various projects. Here are several excellent examples of its outreach:

■ Some 213 Nebraskans participated in the 33rd Annual Nebraska Municipal Clerk Institute and Master Municipal Clerk Academy, held this year in North Platte. CPACS provides this important training of benefit to communities across the state.

■ The methamphetamine problem affects the entirety of the state. UNO's School of Criminal Justice and Criminology has begun a project to help Nebraska communities, especially in rural areas, use telecommunications technology to facilitate the treatment of meth addicts.

■ The School of Public Administration supported the Nebraska Association of Counties Institute of Excellence, a yearlong, professional development program for elected and appointed county officials.

UNO is an important part of Omaha, but it also makes major contributions to the state as a whole. Nebraskans need to be aware of that.

ONLINE OPINION PAGE

In addition to the More Commentary page four days a week in print, The World-Herald is posting syndicated opinion columns at its Web site, Omaha.com. Our endorsement editorials for the mayoral and City Council elections are also online. Point to the "News" menu in the upper left-hand corner of the home page and then click on "Opinion."

Suttle wa

Jim Suttle is a candidate for mayor. He has the experience and background to be an effective administrator.

As a lifelong resident and fellow Republican, I support Suttle in the upcoming elections. But I also support Suttle for a partisan victory.

Suttle did not win the election since it has become a party Democrat's victory. Suttle can in Omaha's best interests. Suttle. Our future depends on Suttle's well-being management.

Unlike his opponent, Suttle will bring the people's voice to the organizations and government. He understands the importance of the job, and the exception.

Omaha deserves a better time. I believe in Suttle's administration. Daub administration is backward and inefficient.

Omaha voters should ensure that Jim Suttle is the next mayor.

Former

Daub sho

I do not have a vote in the election. However, I have a stake in the city's future. Hal Daub has the honor to represent Nebraska as well.

I can say this about me when I was asked. At a time when I was asked me how I felt with Fremont.

We discussed the issue and appreciated the