

STATEWIDE SERVICE WORK

UNO's outreach

It's smart for Nebraska to look within itself and pool its internal resources for maximum benefit.

Consider the service outreach by the University of Nebraska at Omaha. The annual report by UNO's College of Public Affairs and Community Service (CPACS) provides a variety of examples:

CPACS hosted a regional conference for public administrators in October 2009 and one for finance officers in April of this year. The October conference covered topics including financial-condition analysis, disaster recovery and airport management.

More than 150 Nebraska teachers and 500 students received science and engineering training from UNO via the NASA Nebraska Space Grant program.

Nearly 200 Nebraskans attended the weeklong 35th Annual Nebraska Municipal Clerk Institute and Master Municipal Clerk Academy in North Platte.

The Sarpy County Drug Court used CPACS research to carry out court responsibilities.

UNO's State Data Center Program completed a community survey for Nebraska City.

The Center for Public Affairs Research worked with newspapers and radio stations across the state to provide localized census data.

Staff members with the Department of Gerontology developed a database for the Nebraska aging project.

Western Iowa also has benefited. The School of Social Work worked on aging initiatives in Council Bluffs and southwest Iowa, for example.

Institutions of higher learning indeed can be vital resources for boosting civic strength and vision.

is he saying... the United States illegally sure that's not the case. La majority, but illegal status to Latinos.

Please spare me the dra being exposed to anger an non-Latino children think see other kids draped in t chanting "Mexico, Mexico hitting people because the

I think that's more dam than passing a bill that wo existing laws.

I was born and raised i came to this country lega when I was almost 19. I'm who comes from a white has been my home for the We're raising a son and h

I believe the argument unwanted and unwelcom no basis. Shame on those race card.

Ma

Which law is U.S.

It is unreasonable and to see President Barack the president of Mexico
"profiling" for Arizona la ask for proper identifica
suspected of being illega

It makes me ill to thin ernment is attacking the law when it has passed a any person must legally sion before coming acro

Is President Obama's
ers? What ever happene

The federal governm punish lawbreakers, not the law.

Gay

The road home go

If Mexican President were truly worried abo