PLAY & LEARNING IN HIGHER EDUCATION

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 19, 2018 | 9 A.M. | ROSKENS HALL 408

Looking for creative ways to increase student engagement or to help your students create more meaningful learning experiences?

Dr. Debora Wisneski from UNO's College of Education will lead this highly-interactive workshop.

Drawing upon findings from research linking play with student learning and engagement, participants will have the opportunity to explore concepts and practices that can be adapted to a variety of learning environments.

Biography

Dr. Wisneski currently teaches graduate and undergraduate courses in the Early Childhood Education programs at UNO. Her teaching and research areas focus upon play, teacher action research, collaborative classroom research, and story / narrative.

She earned her undergraduate and master's degrees in curriculum and instruction from the University of Missouri-Columbia, both with an emphasis on early childhood education. She received her Ph.D. in curriculum and instruction from the University of Texas at Austin.
