

HIGH IMPACT PRACTICE

USING UNIVERSITY HONORS TO SPARK STUDENT CREATIVITY

MONDAY, JANUARY 28, 2019 | 2 P.M. | MBSC 224

---

About This Event

Dr. Lucy Morrison, University Honors Program Director, will lead this interactive discussion on how the University Honors Program, through courses and other activities, taps into student creativity and fosters student academic and social engagement.

Honors faculty members from a variety of disciplines will share their strategies for creating enhanced and supportive learning environments responsive to the educational needs of highly able and/or exceptionally motivated undergraduate students.

Panelists

- Lucy Morrison
University Honors Program
- Kate Dempsey
Interdisciplinary Informatics
- Liam Heerten-Rodriguez
Social Work
- Mark Schoenbeck
Biology
- Adrian Duran
Art & Art History
- Rita Shaughnessy
Communication
- Abbie Syrek
Communication

FOR MORE INFORMATION AND TO REGISTER:

Center for Faculty Excellence | 402.554.2427 | faculty.support.unomaha.edu/calendar