STANFORD UNIVERSITY AND THE WEITZ FAMILY FOUNDATION
PRESENT:
PIVOTAL RESPONSE TRAINING (PRT)
GROUP PARENT EDUCATION WORKSHOPS
for University of Nebraska, Omaha Staff and Faculty*

4-DAY COURSES
May 14-17, 2019 and August 13-16, 2019

For parents of young children, 2 - 10 years old (limited space)
with Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD)
Each child will receive a 2-hour “hands on” session on days 2 or 3

The workshops focus on communication skills and are appropriate for families of children who have some verbal words, but do not yet use full sentences.

Instructors: Robert Koegel, PhD; Lynn Koegel, PhD, CCC-SLP; Brittany Koegel, PhD, & Lizzie Ponder, MA, BCBA

This workshop is designed to provide education and training on motivating children with ASD. We will meet in small groups of approximately six families.

The following areas will be addressed:

- How to implement the PRT motivational components
- Expanding the functions of communication through question-asking
- Understanding Fidelity of Implementation
- Improving socialization in children with ASD
- Procedures for decreasing disruptive or problem behaviors

To register please email lizziep@stanford.edu

*All expenses will be covered by the Weitz Family Foundation

Events are offered in coordination with UNO’s Speech-Language Clinic
