UNO GRAD STUDENT RECEIVES AWARD FOR OUTSTANDING MASTER'S THESIS

UNO Graduate Student Scott Wike recently made UNO history, becoming the first Maverick to receive the Award for Outstanding Master's Thesis (Qualitative-Rhetorical Methodology) from the Master's Education Division of the National Communication Association. Wike's thesis, titled "Hofstadter Revisited: A Modernized Paranoid Style in Dinesh D'Souza's 2016 Obama's America," was one of seven proposals from across the U.S. to be nominated for this prestigious honor.

Wike's thesis adviser was Barbara Pickering. Please read the rest of the article from MavDaily here!: http://www.unomaha.edu/news/2015/12/uno-grad-student-receives-award-for-outstanding-masters-thesis.php

MAVTRACK FOR GRADUATE STUDENTS

Later this month, graduate programs will have the ability to use a UNO software called MavTrack. MavTrack is an online advising scheduling and note-taking system that is currently only used with UNO undergraduate students. Social Work and IS&T will be piloting this new system for the graduate student population beginning December 15, 2015.

If you are interested in learning more, contact Sammi Kaiser at skkaiser@unomaha.edu in the Academic and Career Development Center.