Residency as it relates to tuition is different than establishing residency for other purposes. A change in resident classification for tuition purposes is not granted automatically. As a state institution, the University of Nebraska must abide by Nebraska State Legislature policy as determined by the University of Nebraska, Board of Regents. These regulations provide the basis upon which University staff shall determine whether an individual qualifies as a Nebraska resident for tuition purposes. In some instances, it may be possible that an individual may qualify as a “resident” of Nebraska for one purpose (such as securing a Nebraska driver’s license) and still not meet the standards established by the Board of Regents for in-state resident status.

The University of Nebraska at Omaha (UNO) reserves the right to question and/or request a residency application and supporting documentation from any individual who wishes to be considered for resident tuition. An individual classified as a non-resident carries the burden of proof of eligibility for residency status when providing documentation to request resident tuition.

Non-Resident Classification

Students may be considered non-residents if they:

1. Did not graduate from a Nebraska high school.
2. Have not established a home in Nebraska for a minimum of 12 months prior to the term or semester for which residency is sought since the most recent Nebraska residence start date, OR
3. Have been enrolled at any Nebraska institution for more than half-time status prior to the term or semester for which residency is sought since the most recent Nebraska residence start date.

Instances of non-resident classification:

- Recent arrivals to Nebraska
- Moving to Nebraska primarily to enroll in a post-secondary institution
- Enrolling in more than half-time status (per semester/term) in a post-secondary educational institution in Nebraska prior to the term for which residence classification is sought since the most recent Nebraska residence start date.
- Not holding U.S. Citizenship, a Permanent Resident, Asylee, or Refugee status as classified by the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS)

Applying for Resident Tuition

Students classified as non-residents can request reclassification by submitting a completed application with required supporting documentation. This application must be signed before a notary public attesting to the accuracy of information. If it is determined that information on an application/affidavit has been falsified, the applicant may be subject to disciplinary action(s) before the applicant is permitted to continue to enroll. Such actions will be determined on an individual basis and may include disciplinary probation, suspension, expulsion, or reimbursing the University for the difference between the tuition paid and the non-resident tuition rate.
When requesting residency for tuition purposes

- The applicant must be admitted to the University and have an active student status.
- The applicant must be enrolled in class(es) for the term in which residency is sought.
- Failure to enroll/register for the term for which residency is sought will result in the cancellation of the residency application and any approved resident status.
- Any applications that are determined to be incomplete after the last day to apply (see deadlines below) will be voided.

Application Process

1. Review the Residence Categories and information.
2. Complete the Application for Residence Classification for Tuition Purposes.
3. Gather copies of required supporting documentation.
4. Submit the application with all required documentation to the appropriate Admissions Office prior to the deadline.
5. At any time prior to a committee decision, the applicant is responsible for any payments due or late fees that may accrue.

Application Submission

The UNO Residency Committee will review each application and any documents submitted in request for residency for tuition purposes. Once an individual has been enrolled at the University or one of Nebraska’s state colleges as a resident student, he/she will be afforded that privilege during the balance of that enrollment, provided the student is readmitted and enrolled within a two year time period and is currently residing in the state of Nebraska.

Appeals

Individuals who believe they have incorrectly been denied residence for tuition purposes may submit a letter of appeal along with any additional documentation to the Residency Committee representative in the Admissions Office. Appeals are reviewed by the Residency Committee, Director of Admissions, and the Associate Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs and Dean for Graduate Studies.

Once enrolled as a resident student, dependents whose parent, guardian or spouse then moves from the state shall not lose their resident status if they are continuously enrolled in the University system.
