ACADEMIC

Intensive

Intensive Language at UNO (ILUNO) students are in class 21 hours a week. Students participate in frequently planned social activities to practice their English and make new friends. Sessions last two (2) months and are scheduled six (6) times throughout the year.

Experienced

The University of Nebraska at Omaha (UNO) has offered English as a Second Language to international students for more than 40 years. Experienced instructors teach reading and vocabulary, grammar and writing, speaking and listening, pronunciation, TOEFL or IELTS preparation, and critical-thinking skills.

Engaged

ILUNO students study in small interactive classes. They work with classmates from all over the world on fun projects while developing high-level personal and academic English language skills.

ILUNO students have more options for undergraduate admissions to UNO.

PROFESSIONAL

Since 1989, professionals from around the world have come to the International Professional Development (IPD) program to gain a competitive edge in an increasingly interconnected global marketplace.

Participants attend seminars in leadership, management, and intercultural communications. They improve their English ability and increase their knowledge of global business practices by visiting Fortune 500 companies based in Omaha. The IPD mentorships program connects participants with Omaha business leaders for one-on-one learning opportunities.

- Build your professional English skills
- Meet Omaha business leaders
- Enhance your credentials and experience
- Advance your career

ACADEMIC

ELSA FLORA SOMÉ Burkina Faso

"I came to ILUNO to improve my English, but have also made a lot of new friends and learned from other cultures. The classes are very interesting, the teachers are enthusiastic, and it is easy to learn. I plan to continue my studies in computer science in Omaha and eventually graduate from UNO with my bachelor's degree. I am very thankful to all my ILUNO teachers. It was a very awesome experience."

PROFESSIONAL

LUCIA SPINALI Human Resources Consultant in a Recruitment Company based in Milan, Italy

"I attended IPD because I wanted to have the opportunity to improve my English language and sharpen my business skills in order to succeed in a globally competitive work environment. During training, I improved my leadership skills and learned how to listen to and understand different viewpoints, especially in a group. The most challenging part was having to present in front of professionals from other countries, discuss topics related to my studies, and work on final presentation."

CUSTOMIZED

MUHAMMAD WAQAS SALEEM Lecturer in Anthropology, Quaid-i-Azam University, Islamabad, Pakistan.

"The customized faculty training at the University of Nebraska at Omaha as a part of the Pakistan University Linkages Program (PULP) has greatly and profoundly transformed my teaching and leadership skills. Now, I consider myself more as a facilitator rather than a teacher and I view students as active participants in the learning process. I have effectively learned about learner's psychology and needs, and now engage with active classroom practices. I have incorporated technology into my teaching practices and it has immensely improved my outreach and availability."
