Application for Exception
To University of Nebraska at Omaha Food Policy

Due to food safety concerns, all potentially hazardous foods served by groups in the MBSC must be prepared by UNO Food Service. Per State of Nebraska health regulations: Cold foods must be held at 40°F or colder, hot foods must be held at 135°F or hotter, and reheated foods must be heated to 165°F. Exceptions will only be considered for non-potentially hazardous foods. Examples include brown-bagging for personal consumption, bake sales, and birthday cakes.

Organization/Department Name:_____________________________________________________

Contact Name: ___________________________________________________________________

Daytime Phone: ____________________ E-mail: ____________________________

Date and Time of Function: _______________________________________________________

Location: _______________________________________________________________________

Purpose of Function: ______________________________________________________________

Type of Food or Beverage to be Served: _____________________________________________

Who Will Attend (group members, outside guests, press, etc.):
______________________________________________________________________________

Organization/Department Signatures:
______________________________________________________________________________ Date: ________________

Please return completed form to Jessica Watts, jlwatts@unomaha.edu or MBSC RM216.

Application Approved: _______________ Denied: _______________
______________________________________________________________________________ Date: ________________

Signature