Stay safe, insider or, as our newsletter says, NCITEr.

CAWSE is an organization that reduces the risk of violent behavior in our communities. We do this by engaging with the public, policymakers, and practitioners to enhance creativity.

We help our partners enhance the ability of communities to evaluate, report, and respond to incidents of mass violence. We aim to prevent violent behavior and reduce its impact on our communities.

MBA capstone projects help CAWSE.

CAWSE provides MBA students with a unique opportunity to apply what they've learned in the classroom to real-world situations.

CAWSE is excited to work with the MBAs at Penn State Harrisburg. We are confident that they will bring fresh perspectives and innovative solutions to our challenges.

NCITE's quick turn on CWIB need shows capability.

Some organizations take months to assess the impact of new policies. CAWSE has shown what a quick turn in this area can look like.

INSIDE NCITE

JANUARY 2021

CAWSE is excited to hold a virtual symposium on June 28th. This event will feature experts from across the country who will discuss the latest research and best practices in the field of violence prevention.

We are also pleased to announce that the CAWSE team will be hosting a new series of webinars starting in May. These webinars will cover a range of topics related to mass violence and will be open to the public.

CAWSE continues to support research on mass violence. We are currently working on a study that will examine the impact of mass violence on communities.

Finally, CAWSE is excited to announce that our executive director will be speaking at the American Society of Criminology, Division on Terrorism and Bias conference in November. This will be a great opportunity to share our research and ideas with other experts in the field of mass violence.