EAD (ENGINEERING, AUTOMATION AND DESIGN) ATTRIBUTES ITS STEADY GROWTH TO INVESTING IN EMPLOYEES AND DELIVERING VALUE TO CLIENTS.

EAD creates employee university

EAD was founded in early 2001 as an engineering firm. Over the years, they have recognized and responded to clients’ needs by diversifying services into automation, construction, and program management. In 2018, EAD expanded its physical locations with the opening of a regional headquarters in Memphis, TN and welcomed eight new associates to the team. The firm continues to actively research additional locations to fill the growing market demand for engineering, automation and design solutions.

A strength of this forward-thinking company is its commitment to exceptional employee development. EAD invests in employees with both technical and human relation skills training. It provides staff with frequent internal training as well as opportunities to pursue advanced certifications. Employees who already have years of hands-on industry experience are encouraged to make continuous learning a priority.

Company leadership recognized a need to pass on the confidence of being able to take on anything technical, while simultaneously developing what some may consider soft skills not always taught in engineering professional education—emotional intelligence, accountability, problem solving and communication, to name a few.

The year-long EAD University developed for employees in partnership with NBDC is a systematic approach to developing non-technical and leadership skills. The program is based on a leadership competency model created with NBDC to answer the question “What does it take to be a good leader at EAD and a trusted business advisor for our clients?” Longer than many similar programs, classes meet once a month for a year. All levels of leadership can participate.

EAD HAS MADE A SIGNIFICANT INVESTMENT TO ENSURE THAT THE COMPANY HAS THE SKILLS AND TOOLS TO CONTINUE STRONG GROWTH INTO THE FUTURE.

If your company is interested in pursuing a strategic approach to employee development that is unique to your organization, turn to pages 16–17 and contact an NBDC organizational development professional.

The University of Nebraska does not discriminate based on race, color, ethnicity, national origin, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, disability, age, genetic information, veteran status, marital status, and/or political affiliation in its programs, activities, or employment. ARE YOU READY TO MAXIMIZE YOUR ORGANIZATION?

We are ready to help! For nearly 30 years, NBDC has provided professional development and customized training solutions to a wide range of situations. That’s our long term commitment to helping businesses in Nebraska grow.

We can help you develop and nurture talent, plan strategically or implement a formal change management process. We have a wide range of resources to serve your individual needs. On this page are general descriptions of issues we have helped client organizations work on. In actuality, our assistance is specific to the needs and goals of each organization. So, it can come in many shapes and sizes.

CHANGE MANAGEMENT

Leaders have a crucial role in effectively leading change initiatives in the workplace. We work with leaders and their teams to recognize their organizations’ objectives, develop a change implementation plan and agree on measurement of the benefits.

STRATEGIC PLANNING

When you are ready to revisit your organization’s strategic plan, we help your leadership create a process that fits your culture. Whether you want input from many stakeholders or just a few, we have a process for that.

TALENT RECRUITMENT AND RETENTION

Many organizations are addressing a need to recruit and retain talent. NBDC can help with your talent initiatives whatever they may be — analyzing employees’ desires and needs, examining the culture of your business, developing of next generation leaders, or creating a talent pipeline. NBDC will assist with your processes while demonstrating best practices.

LONG TERM HEALTH

NBDC helps you develop a well-thought-out workforce plan. We help you review the current state throughout your organization and project future needs for each functional area. Together, we look at your overall organizational structure, changes, skills and knowledge, and develop a plan. This could take 4–6 months but is well worth the effort for the long term health of your organization.
If you have participated in an NBDC certificate program ...
