

Post-award, Non-financial Assistance in the Management of Awards

While the process of managing sponsored research awards is a shared responsibility primarily between the Principal Investigator (PI) and Grants Accounting, there are times during the lifecycle of an award when the Office of Sponsored Programs and Research (SPR) has responsibility for working with the sponsor to ensure that any required prior approvals are obtained before certain actions are taken. Examples of such actions that are processed by SPR include the following:

- Rebudget
- Carryover of funds
- Scope change
- No cost extension
- Change of PI or other key personnel
- PI transfer
- Transfer or change of award/subaward
- Any official communication with the sponsor not related to reporting
