PURPOSE

The UNO Service Learning Academy (SLA) Faculty Fellows program is a critical component in the University’s efforts to accomplish its strategic plan. Specifically, Goal 3 of the strategic plan states that “UNO will be recognized for its outstanding engagement with the urban, regional, national, and global communities…. As an engaged campus, UNO is fully committed to creating value through mutually beneficial partnerships where information and expertise is shared and applied for the common good.” The following sub-goals and objectives within that overarching goal drive the opportunity for faculty fellows:

- Sub-Goal A: UNO will expand its community connections by engaging with partners in instructionally-based academic and educational activities.
  - Objective 1. Each of the UNO colleges will increase the number of undergraduate and graduate courses with service learning components by 25%.

- Sub-Goal B: UNO will increase its research and creative activity that expand and advance the study and nature of community engagement.
  - Objective 1. UNO faculty and researchers will research, write and publish an increasing number of projects which may be described as "scholarship of engagement."

The SLA Faculty Fellows program has been designed to empower experienced and committed service learning faculty to cultivate and support interest in service learning in their fellow faculty members – a means by which to “increase the number of undergraduate and graduate courses with service learning components.” The program also supports the “scholarship of engagement” through its faculty development and conference presentation components.

PROGRAM RESPONSIBILITIES AND REQUIREMENTS FOR 2014-2015

Service Learning Faculty Recruitment & Support: Faculty Fellows will:

- recruit UNO faculty members who have no or limited experience teaching service learning courses to develop at least one new sustainable service learning course offering
- mentor these recruited faculty members by:
  - assisting them in course and syllabus development
  - sharing teaching strategies and techniques
  - aiding in the development of a relationship with a community partner
  - providing guidance in the development of a research agenda related to their service learning course outcomes

Scholarly Products and Presentations: Faculty Fellows will:

- deliver one faculty development workshop for UNO faculty related to service learning pedagogy or strategies for research and presentation of engaged scholarly work
- be encouraged and supported to make a presentation of their pedagogical best practices or research at a regional or national conference.
SLA staff will be available to consult with and support the Faculty Fellows.

Associate and full professors from all UNO colleges who have taught a service learning course at least three semesters are eligible to apply for the SLA Faculty Fellows program.

Priority will be given to applicants who have completed Service Learning 101, the Service Learning Seminar, and/or other service learning-specific training.

The goal of the Faculty Fellows program is to involve faculty in the advancement of the service learning pedagogy among fellow faculty and through engaged scholarship. Applications will be evaluated on the following criteria:

1. Understanding of and commitment to service learning
   a. Understanding and application of the quality standards of service learning
   b. Experience in teaching service learning courses
   c. Explicit design of service learning course to reach both student learning and community outcomes

2. Alignment with professional goals
   a. Anticipated benefit of participation in Faculty Fellows program
   b. Alignment of Faculty Fellows program with professional experiences and goals
   c. Contribution to service learning in field/discipline through engaged scholarship

3. Recruitment & Mentoring
   a. Experience in networking and collaborating with other faculty members
   b. Experience with mentoring and supporting others
APPLICATION MATERIALS

Please include the following in your application packet:

- cover page
- letter of application which documents understanding of and plans to achieve designated program responsibilities and requirements (e.g., Service Learning Faculty Recruitment & Support and Scholarly Products and Presentations as described above)
- curriculum vitae
- syllabus from service learning course(s)
- narrative summary/highlights of service learning experience relevant to the Faculty Fellows criteria such as:
  - service learning curriculum development
  - development of innovative instructional techniques and materials
  - achievements of present and former students
  - student evaluations of teaching
  - peer evaluations of teaching
  - funded instructional grants
  - other activities related to the support of service learning (e.g., advising, mentoring, participation in teaching enrichment activities, etc.)
  - honors and distinctions pertaining to teaching and service learning
- narrative summary/highlights of research/creative activity relevant to the criteria of the Faculty Fellows program, such as:
