Do you ever catch yourself wondering how you could have communicated more effectively? More confidently?

This seminar, featuring communication experts Abbie M. Syrek, MA, and Cameron Logsdon, MA, aims to elevate your public speaking skills and confidence through proven tips and strategies that maximize your communication and presentation.

Who should attend? This professional development opportunity is limited to University of Nebraska Lincoln (UNL) Nebraska Extension educators, building partners housed in the University of Nebraska Omaha (UNO) Barbara Weitz Community Engagement Center (CEC), and UNO adjunct and full-time faculty who partner with the UNO Service Learning Academy (SLA).

Syrek and Logsdon have traveled the world teaching professionals, academics, and non-profit representatives in public speaking and presentation. Their extensive experience in the areas of public speaking, presentation, interpersonal communication, leadership, teamwork, and networking can help you develop your own “Talk Toolbox” while using the strengths you already have.

How to register? Register online by October 1, 2018. Please note that seats and parking are limited. Light snacks provided.

This opportunity is a collaboration between the UNL Nebraska Extension and UNO’s CEC, SLA, and Center for Faculty Excellence.
