

BECOME A UNO MENTOR TODAY!

The University of Nebraska Omaha is partnering with Mentor Collective to pair upper-division students with alumni and industry mentors

As a mentor in the program, you'll have the opportunity to make a difference by helping UNO students with their career exploration and development. You'll be able to offer your support and share advice that you wish someone would have told you when you were in their shoes. You will be paired with a UNO upper-division student based on similar interests, areas of study, life experiences, and other important factors listed on your matching survey.
